The breed for September is the The Pembroke Welsh Corgi. Low-set, strong and sturdily built, the Pembroke Welsh Corgi gives an impression of substance in a small space. He is one of the most agreeable small house dogs, as well as an avid competitor in many dog sports, including conformation, herding and obedience. The Corgi is smart and alert, affectionate but not pushy, bold but kindly. They are the 18th most popular breed and were officially recognized in 1934 by the AKC. Did you know...The Pembroke Welsh Corgi is the preferred breed of Queen Elizabeth II?

DID YOU KNOW?????

In support of the people and pets affected by Hurricane Harvey, the AKC Humane Fund has donated $10,000, through its “Sandy Fund,” to the city of Houston to aid in relief efforts. The donation was made to the Greater Houston Community Foundation and the Hurricane Harvey Relief fund created by Mayor Sylvester Turner.

The AKC Humane Fund’s “Sandy Fund” allows AKC clubs and affiliated organizations to provide assistance for pets and their owners in their own communities during a time of disaster.

“We at the American Kennel Club and AKC Humane Fund are deeply saddened by the severe damage caused by Hurricane Harvey,” said Doug Ljungren, President of the AKC Humane Fund. “We will continue to do everything we can to support relief efforts in the aftermath of this storm.”

In addition to the monetary donation, the AKC Humane Fund has donated an AKC Pet Disaster Relief trailer to the city of Houston. The trailer is currently being assembled and will be ready on Saturday September 2, 2017 to be deployed immediately. The AKC Pet Disaster Relief trailers help to create a safe, temporary home-base for at least 65 pets during the first 72 hours after a disaster is declared. The trailers house and deliver essential animal care items including crates and carriers, AKC Reunite microchips and an AKC Reunite universal microchip scanner, bowls, collars and leashes as well as fans, lighting and generators; cleaning supplies and maintenance items. These supplies can be used as co-location shelters, where people can evacuate with their pets, as well as emergency animal shelters for displaced animals.

Millennials, as it turns out, do want a home of their own—if only so their dogs are more comfortable.

In spite of reports that Generation Y is avoiding purchasing homes (and even an accusation that they spend too much money on avocado toast to afford one), a report by CNN Money showed millennials were the largest group of homebuyers in 2016.

But don't expect them to be walking down the aisle any faster. A recent survey conducted by Harris Poll found that 33 percent of millennials say having better space or a yard for their dog motivated the purchase of their first home. Marriage was the driving force behind 25 percent of homebuyers that age, and having a child was named by only 19 percent.

The generation born between 1980 and 1996 has often bucked tradition in both their work and personal lives, preferring careers as entrepreneurs rather than with traditional corporations (67 percent, a 2014 poll showed) and delaying marriage and kids. A Gallup poll in 2016 showed that 59 percent of millennials have not yet married, compared to 36 percent of Generation Xers and 48 percent of baby boomers of the same age.

But they sure do love their dogs. In 2015, the American Pet Products Association found that young Americans were more likely than baby boomers to make purchases (like toys, gifts, and care items) and take their pets to the vet more often. And this year, the APPA found that millennials surpassed baby boomers in pet ownership for the first time.
